ISSUE BRIEFING: Federal Grant Programs for SLTT Security Expenses

The Issue: Several federal grant programs may be available to offices of Secretaries of State for security-related expenses. This document was created to help NASS members and other officials navigate the commonly referenced programs. Please note, this is not a comprehensive list.

HAVA Election Security Funds:

Election security funds through the Help America Vote Act \(HAVA\) are periodically authorized and appropriated by Congress. When appropriated, these funds are available to the offices of NASS members who serve as their state's Chief Election Official. HAVA funds are currently the only federal grant funds solely focused on election administration and security. These funds do not currently have a regular funding cycle.

DHS Preparedness "FEMA" Grants:

Two grant programs offered under the Department of Homeland Security's (DHS) umbrella of Preparedness Grants include the new State and Local Cybersecurity Grant Program \(SLCGP\) and the Homeland Security Grant Program \(HSGP\). Secretaries of State are not eligible to apply directly for these funds, but Secretaries may work with your State Administrative Agency \(SAA\) to request a portion of the state's funds or to coordinate with other state entities on a funded project.

Both of these grant programs largely target local governments and therefore, require the bulk of the funds to support local government entities. The SLCGP is only for cybersecurity-related expenses. For FY 2023, DHS encouraged, but did not require, states to include Secretaries of State and other election officials on state planning committees for SLCGP. The HSGP targets terrorism prevention and can be used for a broader range of projects, including cybersecurity and physical security initiatives. The HSGP encompasses several grant programs, including the State Homeland Security Program (SHSP) and the Urban Area Security Initiative (UASI). In FY 2023, DHS recognized election security as a national priority area for HSGP funds and required states to apply three percent of SHSP and UASI funds toward enhancing election security. Your SAA should be able to help your office navigate the complex requirements of DHS Preparedness Grants.

JAG Program:

The Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant \(JAG\) Program is a Department of Justice (DOJ) grant program for state and local jurisdictions. It funds justice-related initiatives in the areas of law enforcement, prosecution, indigent defense, courts, crime prevention and education, corrections and community corrections, drug treatment and enforcement, planning, evaluation, technology improvement, crime victim and witness initiatives, mental health programs, and related law enforcement and corrections programs, including behavioral programs and crisis intervention teams. Each state has a State Administrative Agency \(SAA\) through DOJ's Office of Justice Programs specific to this program. (In most cases, this SAA will be different from your state's DHS SAA.) Your DOJ SAA should be able to provide more information and help your office understand the available options for potentially accessing JAG Program funds.

The table on the next page provides a comparison between these four grants and links to additional information.
